ARCHAEOLOGICAL TOPICS IN THE NEW SERIES OF THE MAGAZINE MUZEJI

Summary: Seven issues of the magazine Muzeji were publicized from 2008 till 2020, containing professional papers and dealing with different problems of museum activities. This paper introduces all texts publicized in the new series of the magazine Muzeji discussing archaeological issues. Some fifteen papers have been processed comprising three types of texts. There are eight texts which are directly dedicated to archaeological topics. Then, there are five texts which deal with wider context of museology, including the aspects connected with archaeology. And finally, there are two presentations of archaeological publications. A trend of growing presence of archaeological topics in the last two issues of the magazine Muzeji can be clearly noticed. Further growth of this trend would be considerably induced by activation of the archaeological section within the Museum Society of Serbia.

Keywords: Muzeji (Museums), journal, archaeology, museology, articles, reviews
