

Summary

THE FORTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NIŠ FILM FESTIVAL

Near the end of August 2005, an admirable and respect-worthy anniversary was celebrated. The date marked a span of 40 years since the grand opening of the first Film Festival in Niš, which, over time, has grown into one of the most significant events in the country. The original creator of this unique viewing of our film industry's achievements, Mr. Stanko Tasić, certainly is most responsible for the recognizable cultural identity of the city of Niš.

Over the past four decades, on the Summer Stage in the Fortress, hundreds of film makers took their bows before the loyal audience of Niš, which has always been honest in its feedback, and which was enthusiastically greeting and promoting its favorites – our excellent local actors.
